

FLANAGAN

SECURITY & INVESTIGATIONS GROUP

Introducing the Trade Show Division

January 10, 2022

Flanagan Security & Investigations Group is introducing specialize security services for Trade Show events and other similar large-scale events. The division will be led by Michael Carney.

Michael Carney joins Flanagan Security & Investigations Group after two decades overseeing security for trade show events. Mr. Carney supervised security and managed the floor for many major events held at New York City's prestigious Jacob K. Javits Convention Center, a sprawling 3.3 million square foot complex located on Manhattan's west side. The Javits Convention Center is home to popular events such as the New York Auto Show and the biannual Fancy Food Show. Outside of Javits, Mr. Carney has worked on other New York City-area large scale events including New York Fashion Week, the Frieze Art Fair, Formula E-Racing, and the concerts of some of the music industry's premier artists.

Prior to working private events, Mr. Carney was a Police Officer with the New York City Transit Police Department.

Flanagan Security & Investigations Group ("Flanagan") is an established security and risk management company that specializes in a wide range of services including investigations and executive protection. Flanagan provides high quality security officers to various buildings, businesses, celebrities, and other prominent individuals. Flanagan also provides bomb detection services for businesses and events utilizing specially trained dogs.

For more information, contact Michael Carney at michael.carney@flanaganssecurity.com or Kevin Flanagan at kevin@flanaganssecurity.com.